CONGRESSIONAL HAPPENINGS IN WASHINGTON

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress

By order of President Truman, under his war-time powers, Americans will soon be eating only brown or the whole-wheat bread, in order that dangerously short American wheat and flour supplies may be stretched and a minimum amount of food needed to prevent starvation sent to Europe. According to the President's announcement, the whole-wheat bread order will save some twenty million bushels of wheat between now and the next harvest in June and July. Yet just a few short months ago we were literally throwing away hundreds of millions of bushels of wheat on many unnecessary uses. The government was even paying subsidies on wheat to be fed to livestock. The protests of millers and others that such a waste of our wheat reserves would result in future shortages were disregarded. Even a short month ago your humble Representative was unable to obtain any assistance from the Executive Department that steps would be taken to conserve our wheat and flour supply. So once again the American people are being called upon to pay the price for short-sighted and stupid administration.

By a vote of 258 to 155 the House last Thursday passed the Case Bill, which is designed to both prevent and control strikes and Labor-Management disputes. The bill provides for the setting up of a national Labor-Management Mediation Board in which Labor, Management, and the general public will have equal representation. The Mediation Board will be authorized to take jurisdiction of disputes threatening lockouts or strikes and attempt to mediate the differences between Labor and Management during a thirty day cooling off period, during which time work stoppages will be outlawed. The measure also makes both Labor and Management equally responsible for any violation of employment contracts arrived through collective bargaining; prohibits, and permits injunction against, force and violence, although guaranteeing the right of peaceful picketing; and also prohibits boycotts and jurisdictional strikes, and the unionization of foremen and supervisors.

Another Teapot Dome scandal seems to be in the making, in connection with the President's nomination of Ed Pauley, California oil man and former Treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, to become Undersecretary of the Navy, from which post it is evidently planned to promote him to the Secretaryship in a few months. In the hearing, conducted by a Senate committee on Pauley's nomination, Secretary of the Interior Ickes has already testified as to Pauley's attempt to get him to drop court action on tidal oil land matters in return for a heavy campaign contribution to the Democratic National Committee. A State Department official also told the committee of Pauley's alleged attempt to interfere in a Mexican oil deal, on the basis of further contributions to the Democratic National Committee. Many observers believe it will soon become necessary for the President to withdraw his nomination of Pauley—but the whole matter may not end there, for there is considerable talk that a thorough Congressional investigation of other of Pauley's activities, in connection with the raising of Democratic campaign funds, should be conducted.

The War Department has flatly turned down the recommendation of a Senate subcommittee investigating the demobilization program, that all fathers of minor children be discharged from military service promptly. At the present time there is said to be some seven hundred thousand such fathers in the Army alone. The War Department has advised the Senate committee that all but one hundred and twenty thousand of these fathers are expected to be discharged by July 1st. Just what action the Military Affairs Committee of the Senate will take as a result of the War Department's refusal to cooperate has not yet been decided. The House Republican Steering Committee, of which your Representative is a member, some time ago officially demanded the immediate discharge of such fathers of minor children, contending they were needed more at home than in the armed forces at this time.

While Members of Congress join with other citizens in supporting the present American Red Cross drive for funds, hundreds of letters are being received on Capitol Hill protesting against the arrangement whereby CIO and a number of other labor organizations are receiving a commission on all Red Cross donations collected from

COLLEGE NEWS

Thursday of last week was Day of Prayer for colleges. Cedarville college observed the day with a special chapel program at 10 A. M. The devotional period was conducted by Ted Harsh. The college girls' sextet sang. The special feature of the observance was an inspiring address by the Reverend E. Howard McClintock, pastor of the Northminster Church, Springfield, O. on the subject, "Lighthouse of Christ." Some of the leading thoughts were: Prayer for self and for others brings sweetness and strength. Prayer should be made for basic needs, strength of spirit and change of the innerman that he may rise to Christ's standards. Improvement of spirit is needed to save the flesh, a thought attributed to Gen. Douglas MacArthur. A main source of trouble is with our will and desire. Seeking the things of men we lose both the things of men and the things of God. The way out is faith in the Church, radiant witness by church members—thus establishing the "Lighthouse of Christ" that men may be guided into true harbor of the soul.

Home Coming was just that—They came, some 200 of them, a large percent students and grade of the last decade. Many say there was never a better Home Coming, a few equal. Much of the success of the meeting rests with Alumni president and secretary, Mrs. Catherine Finke Jurkat and Prof. Bennett McNeal, and their committee. A very efficient helper was Alumni treasurer, Miss Mabel Stormont. Those making the trek came from Pennsylvania, Illinois, Michigan, Kentucky and points between, and they came early and stayed late. You see, there was so much to be said and such a short time to say it. Many are planning to come back next year to finish the talkfest. First course was a buffet dinner by the Cedarville College Ladies' Advisory Board under the leadership of the president of the Board, Mrs. Ira D. Vayhinger. The board sustained their fine reputation for fine dinners plus (We want that meat ball recipe for our wife.) The second course was the business meeting. This meeting was very efficiently presided over by Mrs. Elmer Jurkat. After words of welcome, she called upon Benny McNeal for a report as secretary, to Rev. Herbert Main, vice-president, she gave the task of thanking those who had helped make the Home Coming a success and he did a thorough job of the assignment. Mrs. Jurkat then asked President Vayhinger to set forth plans in the making for a great Cedarville College. After a general statement of the hopes and needs of the college, President Vayhinger pointed out the specific, immediate needs. At the December meeting of the Board of Trustees a campaign to raise $15,000 for the rehabilitation and improvement of the college plant, building, gym and farm. This effort, dormitories, main building, science is necessary because during the war time needed repairs could not be made due to scarcity of everything needed. Dr. John W. Bickett, well known alumnus and pastor of Clifton United Presbyterian church has been chosen to head the drive for these much needed funds. This course was closed by a sing fest of college and popular songs led by Mrs. Mildred Bickett Creswell with Mrs. Eleanor Hull McCallister at the piano.

The third course was a basket ball game between CC varsity directed by coach Boger and an alumni team of grads and former students. It was a fine game. The varsity led most of the way but just at the last the combination of former grads Swain, Walker and Wallace, with assistance of others was able to snatch and hold a lead of 33-31.

The fourth and final course was a series of 10k games and dances directed by Prof. Cecil Thomas of OSU YMCA assisted by Mrs. Thomas, that they were very much enjoyed by those taking part is easily understood.

CC was on the map on Lincoln's Birthday. Our president was on the discussion panel at Wilberforce International Day, Miss Santmyer's speech class presented portions of Shakespearean plays as our contribution to the evening program very acceptably, and the varsity basketball team took a practice game from the Selma Independents by a score of 54-30.

The return basketball game with Wilberforce played on the latter's floor was won by WU by a score of 74-52. The game was played Monday night. Today the varsity goes to Rio Grande for a game at 3 P. M. There is always a battle royal when these two teams meet. CC hopes to continue the winning ways begun at Selma. Tuesday night. In the WU game trout was high man with 20 points.

President Mrs. Vayhinger and son, "Dick" are entertaining the student body at their home next Thursday night.

REID MANSION MAY BE HOME OF U R S C

There is much publicity being given to the story that the former Whitelaw Reid home in New York City may be taken over by the United Nations security council for official headquarters.

Whitelaw Reid was born north west of town off the Yellow Springs road in October 27, 1837 and was educated in this vicinity. He was the son of Robert and Marion Reid. At one time there were numerous Reid families in this township. Whitelaw obtained his first newspaper experience on the old Xenia News, he being editor from 1858 to 59. He left the county and took a position with the old Cincinnati Gazette and was their correspondent during the Civil War. In 1868 he became editor of the New York Tribune and later owned controlling interest which has passed on to his son, Ogden Mills Reid. The Tribune and Herald were merged a score of years ago.

The Reid mansion is a block long and four stories, having brownstone construction. It comprises 30 rooms and during the younger years of Mr. and Mrs. Reid the mansion was the scene of many brilliant social events for New Yorkers as well as leaders in European countries.

Whitelaw was minister to France from 1889-1892; Republican candidate for vice president in 1892; special ambassador to Queen Victoria's jubilee in 1897; member of the peace commission in Paris, 1898; special ambassador to England for the coronation of King Edward, 1902; ambassador to the court of St. James from 1905 until his death in 1914.

History records that Mr. Reid during his long public career never had a social, political or business scandal attached to his name or his administration. Once upon a time when Mr. Reid returned here, as he frequently did to visit his aged mother, in discussing world events of that day and commenting on an event in France, remarked to the grandfather of the "Christian life anywhere if you have been raised right." Both Robert and Mrs. Reid were devoted Christians and members of the Reformed Presbyterian congregation that worshipped in those days in what is now Alford Memorial.

New Deal Will Stop Wheat For Poultry Feed

The farm income will be greatly reduced for the current year with the sale of light weight hogs and less poultry and eggs. The Agricultural Department hints that it will prohibit the use of wheat in any kind of feed for animals and for domestic use for bread alone. The mixed flour will meet with favor for pies and cakes, according to bakers.

The department now wants farmers to reduce poultry flocks by 17 percent and ten percent less turkeys. It is almost impossible now to get chick feed or even feed for laying hens. As the season approaches feed dealers say there will not only be less feed for chicks but it will be impossible to keep up the quality of former years.

Reducing the poultry flocks this spring means less poultry this summer and a great drop in egg production this fall and winter.

Memorial Service For Lt. Wallace Bradfute

A memorial service for Lt. Wallace Bradfute, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Bradfute, will be held in the Clifton United Presbyterian Church, Sabbath afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Lt. Bradfute was a graduate of Cedarville High School in 1941. He was 22 years of age and was shot down over France and reported missing on February 16, 1945. It was not until January 3rd that the War Department announced officially of his death.

The address at the memorial service will be delivered by Chaplain A. C. Carmichael, of Wright Field. The public is invited to attend this service.

Creswell Residence Sold To L. Williamson

The Creswell property, Xenia ave., occupied by Mr. G.H. Creswell, has been sold to Capt. Lawrence Williamson, Wright Field, who is now a resident of Xenia. Mr. G. H. Creswell has purchased the Cliff property on Cedar street.

Cedarville College To Campaign For $15,000 Remodeling Fund

President Ira D. Vayhinger of Cedarville College announced at the annual alumni meeting of 200, a plan to raise $15,000 for the rehabilitation, repairs and remodeling of campus buildings in preparation for an upswing in enrollment.

Included in the project will be the fitting of the Rife dwelling into a boys' dormitory, repair of Harriman Hall, the girls' dormitory, the science building and the Carnegie library building.

President Vayhinger stated that of this sum he is proposing, half the amount be subscribed by the alumni association headed by Dr. John W. Bickett, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Clifton.

He also stated that a considerable amount w. be expected from this community.

Three teachers are to be added to the faculty next fall, one in the science department, another in mathematics and one in physical education. It was announced by Mrs. Elmer Jurkat, president of the alumni association, that Mrs. Beatrice Allen of Dayton has been secured by the alumni association to act as the secretary of the college.

Others taking part in the program include Mrs. Greer McCallister and Mrs. Ward Creswell of Cedarville; Rev. H. L. Main, Olney, Ill.; Bennett McNeal, Clifton and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Thomas of Columbus.

J. A. Finney, Xenia, president of the board of trustees was scheduled to speak, but was unable to attend on account of illness.

Newsman Elect Cleveland Man

J. A. VanBuren, business manager of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, was elected president of the Ohio Newspaper Association by the trustees Friday afternoon following the close of the annual convention of that association, which attracted a record-breaking attendance.

Mr. VanBuren succeeds Raymond B. Howard, of London, who has served as president for the past two years and will remain as a member of the board of trustees.

Others elected were Roger H. Fenger, Cincinnati Enquirer, vice president; E. C. Dix, Wooster Record, chairman of the Board and Karl Bull, Cedarville Herald, was re-elected treasurer. Ed M. Martin was named to the post of Executive Director and Paul R. Gieger, Columbus, will again serve as legal counsel, with Walter J. Reck, Ohio State Journal, heading the Legislative committee. Dan Nicol, Toledo Blade; Frank W. Spence Newark Advocate, R. Kenneth Kerr, Lancaster Eagle-Gazette and Gardner H. Townsley, Lebanon Western Star, were named as new trustees. Trustees re-elected were Maj. Ralph D. Henderson, Columbus Citizen; Roy D. Moore, Canton Repository; Orrin R. Taylor, Archbold, Buckeye and Fenger and Bull.

The Buckeye Press Association, celebrating its 50th anniversary, elected Earl Clark, Deshler Flag, as president succeeding Eugene J. Miller, Loudenville Times.

The Western Star, at Lebanon, published by the company headed by Congressman Clarence Brown with Gardner Townsley as business manager, Warren C. Nelson, formerly of South Charleston, again won the top award in the newspaper show.

E. D. Stroup Addresses Progressive Club

We are losing our song birds at a tremendous rate, Elwood D. Stroup, Greene county game protector told the Progressive Club at the regular dinner meeting, Monday evening.

"The reason for this condition is that man has destroyed their natural habitat. Every farm should have certain acreage set aside as a wild life sanctuary that will protect quail, rabbits and squirrels. When old line fences were destroyed, much of the natural habitats of wild life was also done away with," Stroup declared.

As a nation we have so exploited our natural resources during these last five years that if we were called upon to face another emergency of similar proportions in the next five years we would be unable to do so, he predicted.

"From here on in it must be a matter of reforestation before we can consider conservation," he added.

The five Vo-Ag chapters in Greene county schools are doing much for the conservation of tomorrow, Stroup said. The conservation dept. is working on a suitable school book now on this subject which will be placed in the public schools, he revealed.

Stroup advised the club to set up a park planning board for the recently acquired acreage designed as a veterans memorial park and stated that he would endeavor to secure as much state aid as possible for beautification of the tract.

60 VENIREMEN DRAWN FOR AUTO THUGS

Judge F. L. Johnson has ordered a venire of 60 jurors drawn by Clerk of Courts, L. N. Shepherd to try Ernest F. Eynans and Clarence Tucker, both of Cincinnati, on first degree murder charges for the shooting of Deputy Sheriff Earl C. Confer on January 28.

Tucker has pleaded not guilty and is held in the county jail without bond and Eynans will enter plea upon recovery from gun wounds at Miami Valley hospital, Dayton.

The following jurors have been called for April.

Judge Johnson before leaving for a vacation in Florida, announced the appointment of Sam Kelly, former trial counsel in the Montgomery co. prosecutor's office, to assist Prosecutor Marcus Shoop in the prosecution. It is said Tucker will be represented by William F. Hopkins, Cincinnati lawyer.

ALONG FARM FRONT FARM BUREAU COOP ANNUAL MEETING

Louis Washington of Columbus will be guest speaker at the annual stockholder's meeting of the Greene County Farm Bureau Cooperative Association at Xenia Central High School Auditorium, Tuesday evening, February 19, at 8 o'clock.

Entertainment will be furnished by the Buccaneers from WLW and a display of merchandise will be shown. Refreshments will be served and three directors elected. The managers report will be given by Henry Heath.

ARTIFICIAL BREEDING COMMITTEE TO MEET

The sponsoring committee of the Greene County Artificial Breeding Association will meet at the Court House Wednesday evening, February 13, at 8 o'clock to complete plans for starting the work. It is expected that an inseminator will be available by March 1st, and that the work will get under way as of that date.

The committee has signed approximately 1300 cows to date and herd owners are asked to make application before March 1. Members of the sponsoring committee are Earl Rittenour, chairman; Fred Williamson, vice chairman; John Stover, secretary; David Kinsel, Elmer Wolf, Lewis Lillick, Raymond Wolf, Joe White, Jr., Ray Krug, Warren Mason, Carl Pickering, Wayne Turner and Phillip Coon.

ARTIFICIAL BREEDING SHORT COURSE

An artificial Breeding Short Course will be held February 14-23, at Ohio State University under a corps of instructors from the University, the Experiment Station, and the Department of Agriculture.

Several young men from Greene County are interested in the course. There is a shortage of trained people in this field and jobs are assured those completing the work. The artificial breeding program can be of great benefit in improving dairy cattle since dairymen become part owners of proven sires of high producing characteristics.

TURKEY APPLE SHOWS PROMISE

The Turkey apple has been in production in Ohio for a sufficient period of time to form an estimate as to its value and it would seem to rate at least a minor place in the list of winter varieties.

Turkey is a winged seedling and in tree and fruit characteristics, it resembles both Stayman Winesap and Mammoth Black Twig. The fruit is medium in size, of fair quality, and the fruit will not crack, and in this respect is superior to Stayman.

SOD CROPS BUILD PRODUCTIVITY

One of the casualties of the war years has been the loss of soil productivity due to the demand for increased acreage of corn, small grain and soybeans. These crops deplete soil of its fertility and destroys its organic matter. Now that the war is over it is none too soon for farmers to take steps to restore a more normal balance between the soil depleting grain crops and the soil building sod crops.

With only one-third of the land in sod, such as in corn small grain, hay rotations, it is very difficult to maintain soil productivity. On most farms where this rotation is followed soil productivity is on the decline.

Tests show, however, that if one half of the land is in sod, such as corn small grain and 2 years of hay the organic matter content of the soil is increased and there is a steady climb in crop yields.

At a meeting of agronomists of mid western states recently, a move was made to convince farm implement manufacturers it is time to adopt fertilizer drills and attachments more closely to modern trends of power farming. They pointed out that the use of fertilizer has been years ago general than it was several years ago and the amounts applied per acre has increased considerably.

The principal changes suggested in equipment were greater hopper capacity, more accurate placement of fertilizer at high tractor speeds and provision for applying larger amounts of fertilizer per acre. Many of the Principles for applying fertilizer mechanically are holdovers from the team and wagon days.

ADVANCE IN FARM METHODS—

Man's knowledge of the soil and the methods he uses to till it have advanced more in the past 150 years than in all the previous ages combined. In the eighteenth century 90 out of each 100 people were engaged in food production. By contrast, during World War II, only 23 out of each 100 were able to produce the food needed to feed our civilian population, the

DR. W. SEATH TO CONDUCT SERVICES

Dr. William Seath, superintendent of the Chicago Christian Industrial League, the largest of its kind in the city of Chicago, and one of the largest in America, has been secured by the First Presbyterian Church of this village to hold a community preaching mission for one week beginning Sunday morning February 24 at 11 A. M.

A union service of the churches of the village will be held at 7:30 P. M. On Feb. 26 he will address the ministers at Xenia at 10:30 A. M. in the First Reformed Church and again in Cedarville at 7:30 P. M. with general and Church officers as guests.

On Tuesday, Feb. 26 he speaks at the Cedarville College Chapel at 11 A. M. and in the evening here with the General and Missionary Societies as guests. On Wednesday he addresses the Payne Theological School at Wilberforce at 10 A. M.

In the evening the churches of Clifton are to be guests at the local church. On Thursday he addresses the local high school at 9 A. M. and in the evening the clubs and lodges of the village are to be guests.

On Friday evening March 1 he has as guests the General and Sunday School and Young People at 7:30.

On Sunday March 3rd he concludes the week's appearance with a sermon at 11 A. M. and a Union Service at 7:30 P. M.

Dr. Seath is a Presbyterian Minister and a World War I Veteran. He entered rescue mission work in Minneapolis in 1920 where he also served as chaplain of four prisons for seven and one half years. In 1931 he was called to his present position in the city of Chicago.

He is the author of several books and is first vice-president of the International Union of Gospel Missions. Dr. Seath received the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Cedarville College in 1944. President Ira D. Vayhinger of Cedarville College was at one time associated with Dr. Seath in administrative work at the noted Chicago mission. All meetings are open to the general public. The Rev. Paul H. Elliott, host pastor announced today.

Dam Sight Has Been Cleared Of Underbrush

If you have not been on East street lately you would hardly know, the place now that the trees have been thinned out and the underbrush cut down. There is now a better view of the small lake formed in Massie creek bed, which was once a stone quarry.

It has been proposed to erect another dam nearer the East st. bridge and having it higher than the present it would cover the entire basin and make quite a lake.

The Progressive Club and the American Legion are working to create the location into a park and play ground and also the erection of a club house in the near future. By erecting a higher dam there would be a better opportunity of conserving the water supply which should mean much to increasing the water level in this section.

Much credit is due to Mr. M. C. Charles who has given his time to clearing the site of the underbrush.

Mrs. Paul Elliott Composes DAR Song

Mrs. Anna A. Elliott, wife of the Rev. Paul H. Elliott, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, is one of three winners of a song-writing contest sponsored by the DAR for the state of Ohio.

The song entitled "A Song For The DAR" will be used at the state convention March 12-14 in Cincinnati and will be entered in the national contest.

Mrs. Elliott is a member of the Cedar Cliff Chapter of this area.

Windstorm Damages Plate Glass Window

This section of the country was visited with a 58-mile windstorm from the south-west about 1 A. M. Thursday, that did considerable damage to lines of public utilities. A plate glass window in the hardware store of Paul Cummings was broken when a sign was torn loose from the building. Several trees on Xenia ave. were blown down and damage was done to the porch at Harriman Hall. Cincinnati reports 200 electric signs and plate glass windows. Plate glass is hard to replace as the factories were on strike for two months or more.

WHITEHOUSE CONVERTED TO LIE FOUNDRY

With the resignation of Secretary Harold Ickes of the Interior Department and the controversy over the appointment of Edwin W. Pauley as under Secretary of the Navy, who in less than six months was to be made head of the department, brings the White House before the American people in a role never known in the history of the country until the Roosevelt tribe took up its abode there. From that day on the sacred shrine of World History became the disgrace for liquor parties, divorce scandals and the propagandizing of most any issue that did not require a moral standard. Today the home of Washington, Lincoln, McKinley, Wilson centers around charges of perjury and the decorating of each other in New Deal ranks as the preverter of truth and who has and has not lied.

The present situation is nothing more than the crop sown by the New Deal, which was founded on the lie, deceit and intended and planned deception. What a misfortune it has been that the creator and godfather of propagandizing the public on untruths, had not lived to see the harvest. The charges of who is the liar as bad as it is has no comparison to the one who has been asked to commit perjury in connection with a Senate investigating committee looking up the record of Pauley, who is or was treasurer of the Democratic party. It is another tea pot dome scandal, only one of the few war-time acts of the New Dealers. This committee like the one hearing the Pearl Harbor investigation has had yards of perjured testimony from a score of witnesses and Democratic Senators have done their utmost to keep the blame of the Pearl Harbor attack from being laid at the door of Franklin D. Roosevelt as Commander-in-Chief, Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy and Secretary Stimson, Secretary of War. The whole investigation will be a planned Whitewash directed by Democratic New Dealers.

The Presidential nomination of Pauley in the face of exposure even before the Ickes resignation was enough to blacken and bring President Truman into dispute; especially when he publicly refused to withdraw the Pauley name from the committee. The President has lost all of his political stature in recent weeks over the OPA and the CIO. He stands out more as one who has lost his balance especially when the old machine politicians from Missouri have been made his consultants while the machine boss sleeps in cold ground after a prison term for wronging his state.

Readers of this column will recall that we have for some years used the term "liar and lie" in connection with the New Dealers and their methods. We knew they were lying to the public on many occasions and our opinion was backed by scores and hundreds of others. We knew they were offing lives to and about each other. We were lied to about the war. The men sent to the front from the National Guard were lied to. Time after time the proof of the lies emanated from the same circle and from the same department of government that issued the untruth. More lies have been issued by the Department since Henry Wallace was enthroned to and about farmers and farm crops, and continued under Wickard and you get the same old bary-yard chaff under Clinton Anderson about the food situation. The farmer has been played for a fool. Early in the war you will recall when farmers rebelled about the 1914 parity price for farm products in war time; FDR issued a blast against the American farmer as unpatriotic, greedy, not in sympathy with others making their contribution to help England out of the war. This statement was issued to blacken the farmer in the eyes of the public and much of it still remains there with the big city organized vote.

You will recall that Secretary Anderson made promises at the WLW conflag last October as to what he had planned for the farmer. Today he admits he cannot make good and more excuses are given the public. If you want to get the low down on the European food situation talk to the service men who are around you. Now we have a food shortage following on the reports six months ago of a world surplus except possible sugar. What has become of that shortage the Ag Department was alarmed about? If it was consumed in six months then some where around the globe there was no food shortage. At that time farmers were being urged to feed wheat because the world had a two year surplus. These reports from the Agriculture Department were either true or false and there is great difference of opinion between citizens today as to the truth of the so-called shortage. The Department might clear up the situation by going into details as to where the two-year surplus went during the past six months.

We are not so certain the request of President Truman as to issuing an order stopping the use of corn for distilling liquor can be taken at face value. Our reason is that the New Deal is a liquor controlled administration, was so under FDR and Mr. Truman has said or done nothing to convince the public otherwise. The distillers probably have millions of bushels of corn undelivered under contract but Mr. Truman's order does not imply what is to be done with all that corn if the food situation is as critical as his administration pictures to the public. You will recall a similar order was issued by FDR about using sugar for beer, wines and other alcoholic drinks. Breweries are still making beer and using sugar. Wineries are making and selling more wine than ever before and using sugar, yet Mr. Truman or Mr. Anderson have not ordered the discontinuance of using sugar in the face of a shortage, so much so that home canning of fruit was held up last season and millions of pounds of fruit rotted on the trees.

If the public was a bit more critical this condition would not and could not exist. As long as you have men in high government places that deliberately lie, are asked to protect wrong doing even at the price of perjury what statement from the administration can be accepted as truthful and stated with honest intent?

LABOR SITUATION MORE BUNGLED THAN EVER

Weeks have passed and various plans have been put out as methods of settling labor disputes. Many of these crackpot ideas from the handpicked Truman "fact-finding boards" have no merit what ever, other than to confuse the public. Most of these board members are acting for the CIO and Mr. Truman is only stultifying himself the more by feeding their reports to the public. Evidently bewildered by the mixup in labor circles and in price fixing, the President knows not which way to turn his head—a plain case of a floundering fish in deep water.

The leakage of continued fighting in New Deal ranks has given the public something to think about. Henry Wallace is credited with influencing Truman to take up the labor fight while Chester Bowles pressed for fixed low prices to the public in the face of high labor costs. All has not been told about Secretary of Interior Ickes. He backed Wallace for Vice President with the CIO and lost. One faction of the CIO wants a straight independent ticket for president and vice president at the next presidential election. Henry Wallace is slated for the presidential nomination and Chester Bowles for vice president. The other crowd will accept Wallace but want Ickes for vice president. Sidney Hillman and his CIO PAC want Bowles who granted the garment workers an increase of 25 percent in wages and left the manufacturers to sell at 1942 prices, so you cannot get shirts, children's clothes, etc.

Mr. Truman is being sacrificed by both crowds. He had made pledges that could not be kept, especially his promise to carry out the double-dealing secret agreements made at Yalta by FDR. Mr. Truman is more to be pitied than scorned. He is simply out of his place and like Warren G. Harding, a victim of unscrupulous advisors and those that seek to plunder the government. Little has been said about the graft in war contracts. Less said about the commissions Democrats have taken down on loans to foreign nations and particularly commissions on the sale of American food at big profits for foreign shipment.

Drew Pearson, radio commentator, has been in communication with the weather man, and predicts the weather will be seasonable for a good crop of everything this coming season. As we have not yet met Washington's birthday, or what March has in store for the nation, one naturally suspects Drew has been doing a bit of dreaming or he has been enamored by the kind of bulletins on weather, crops, etc. that come out of the Agricultural department. Drew says there will be plenty of everything for everybody, here and abroad.

Drew has made many political prognostications that have come true and what Congress might or might not do when he takes on the weather for a ten month period, that is stepping into another field. Yet, he may have access to weather conditions that mortal man has not yet been privileged to experience. We recall the Kaiser claimed to be in communication with the Deity and Franklin D. did some radio praying and some secret trading, but neither ever bothered much about the weather. If Drew has any influence on the weather management, we suggest that he had better order some snow covering for the wheat in the central states which is suffering much from the biting winds, freezing at 12 above. Farmers do not harvest their wheat on February predictions.

A mother who has a son abroad hands us a slip with a few lines from the youth now in Japan. He had been in several demonstrations where the boys in the Pacific vented their feelings about the many promises to return home. He quoted one banner: Mussolini is gone. Hitler is gone. Roosevelt is gone. Knox is gone. Do we go over here or at home?

The CIO World War II veterans, some 480 of them, marched around the Ohio State House time after time one day this week, picketing Governor Lausche, who was in Cincinnati, on Lincoln's birthday. Officially the State House was closed. The CIO wants a state bonus and a lot of other things. We do not know that Ohio will oppose a reasonable state bonus. The boys received a slight financial recognition following the First World War. If the American Legion or some of the other established veteran organizations do not take the lead in this bonus movement, there might be a disgruntled populace, all due to the disrespectful method of the gang that would insult the state, even on the natal day of one of the nation's greatest leaders. The action of the CIO on Tuesday was mob rule. The Governor cannot pay a bonus without authority. The mandate must come from the people and the legislature. We do not think the Governor has a moral right to call the legislature in session on demands of the CIO. This group does not represent the veterans who believe in and respect orderly government. The CIO demonstration Tuesday was that of the radical Communists.

We have had the atom bomb. We have "Honest Harold". We have the oil grafters in the Democratic party. Mr. Ickes pointedly stated how a former Secretary of the Interior was misled and the ultimate disgrace. How well the Republicans know. Query a New Dealer now about his party tea pot dome scandal and you cannot tell whether he has the toothache, summer complaint or the gout. Our Democratic friends have much more in store for them in the future as the campaign progresses than they realize. One of them will be the Democratic gestapo in Greene County and its activities.

One of the Democratic war-brides, that won war laurels behind a desk in Washington—where neither the smoke or smell of powder was known is not to return to his native country for future residence. Col. Homer Henry escaped duty on the war front in Europe or in the slime of Pacific islands where his drafted comrades did a real job at the risk of their lives and under the greatest hardships. No Greene County Democrat that we know of on the front has been decorated with a "Col".

Two weeks ago the attorneys for the Roosevelt estate asked for authority to sell $88,000 worth of stamps the Chief Executive had among his relics. Many of these valuable stamps had been presented to him free by the Treasury Department, something not permitted other officials or any citizen. Some of the issues were engraved especially. Now the attorney wants the New York State Tax Commission to eliminate state inheritance taxes because FDR was a soldier at the time of his death, as Commander-in-Chief, and thus free from tax in that state. We suppose the next move will be to ask the U. S. Government to eliminate the federal inheritance tax on the same grounds. If anyone can think of some other method the Roosevelt's can milk the public treasury, just communicate with the attorneys for the estate. The family may be in need of financial assistance even though Mrs. is drawing $12,000 a year and expenses by appointment

Washington Letter

The members of their unions. The American Red Cross functions under a special charter granted by Congress and there has been some discussion in Congressional cloakrooms of amending the law so as to prohibit that organization from paying fees or commissions to any persons or groups for the collection of contributions.

The filibuster against the FEPC bill, which has been conducted by the Southern Members of the Senate since January 18, and, of course, has prevented any legislative work in that body during the intervening time, may come to an end before this column appears in print. (It has ended.) Under Senate rules there is no limit on debate and any Member can speak as long as he desires unless closure, which would limit each Senator to one hour, is voted by a two-thirds majority of the Senate. A closure petition has been submitted to the Senate, and signed by forty-eight Members—not sufficient number to guarantee that closure limitation on debate will be voted.

ALONG FARM FRONT

Three factors contributing most toward this efficiency were: modern farm machinery, scientific fertilization and improvement of plant and livestock varieties.

Two new bush lima beans, Fordhook 242 and Early Market are now well enough established so that seed is generally available to all farmers and gardeners who want to grow them. The developers of these two lines, attribute their rapid success of these two beans to certain outstanding quantities and to the desire of farmers and gardeners to take advantages in yield, quality, and disease resistance. The Fordhook 242 sets pods in hot weather much better than the old varieties. It is a good home garden and market-lima—and freezes well. The Early Market bush bean is the earliest of the large seeded ones and highly productive.

GREENE COUNTY SHERIFF NAMES NEW DEPUTY

Sheriff Walton Spahr, Monday announced the appointment of John G. Reuber, Bath twp., returned World War II veteran as deputy sheriff with the title of county road patrolman. He succeeds Earl C. Confer, killed in line of duty in a Xenia shooting Jan. 29. The new deputy was a special deputy under Sheriff Spahr before entering the navy. He served with the naval shore patrol in plain clothes in Panama for two years and received his discharge Jan. 9th. Married, he and Mrs. Reuber live on the Funderburg rd., Bath tp.

HOG PRICE BASE OPPOSED BY CIO

Reports out of Washington say the CIO is using pressure on the New Dealers to take the bottom from under the hog price. The OPA is looking with favor on the plan and reason that farmers who are holding back hogs would unload them at once and sell everything down to 125 pounds. The CIO has had some sort of a promise from the administration and was willing to take the 18 1/2¢ of the 19 1/2¢ an hour originally asked for. The recompense was to be lower priced food.

Secretary of Agricultural Clinton Anderson in speeches to farmers during the WLW farm week last October promised farmers they would have guaranteed prices. Now he says he cannot make good the promises due to the world food situation. Labor gets the increase in wages. The farmer is not to be given any protection. One thing is sure he will get to pay the increased cost of everything he must purchase.

LEGAL NOTICE

Callie Day, who last resided at Hill Street, Xenia, Ohio and whose present place of residence is unknown and cannot be ascertained, will take notice that on the 23 day of January, 1946, the plaintiffs Opal Massie and Goldia Harner, filed their petition in the Common Pleas Court, Greene County, Ohio, against Callie Day et al, the same being Cause No. 24,251 in said court.

The prayer of said petition is for the construction of the will of W. R. Sessler, deceased, and that the plaintiff's title to the following described real estate to be quieted as against the defendant, Callie Day. Said real estate is situated in the county of Greene, state of Ohio, and township Silvercreek, and bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at a stone in the center of the Ervin Road corner to Albert Oglesbee and in the West line of Emma McMillen; thence with the center of said road and line of said McMillen, A. D. Robinson heirs and J. H. Fields north 5 deg. East 177.96 poles to a stone N. W. corner to said Fields at a turn of said road; thence with the line of said Robinson's heirs 10 acre tract and also Mary E. Lewis North 86 deg. 33' West 60.08 poles to a stone in the line of said Lewis and N. E. corner to Levi Harness; thence with the line of said Harness South 5 deg. Tire-Tube Method Of Post Treatment

Life of Fence Posts Extended Thirty Years

Fence posts of nondurable wood can be made to have 20 to 30 years of life, or even more, by the simple method of tire-tube treating. By this method the bark is peeled for a distance of 4 to 6 inches from the large end of the post, to provide a smooth, clean surface.

A section of old inner tube about two feet long is slipped over the peeled surface and bound in place. The post is then laid on a rack with the large end about two feet or more higher than the small end. In a short time the preservative, contained in the tube, will begin to flow into the sapwood of the post, forcing the natural sap out at the small end. When all the preservative has flowed from the tire tube into the wood, the tube is removed and the post taken from the rack.

The length of time required for the preservative to flow will depend upon quantity used, condition of wood, season, and other factors, and will vary from 8 to 24 hours. The preservative can be coal-tar creosote or mixtures of creosote with other suitable oils.

New in Machinery Poultry

Proper nests make it possible to secure the greatest returns possible for eggs produced. Cracked and dirty eggs must be a total loss or sell at a discount. Feed must be taken out of the bag and put into the hen without waste. Upper cut shows an ideal tier of nests. Lower a modern metal feeding hopper. They are both products of the Oakes Manufacturing company, Tipton, Ind.

New in Machinery Silage

Next season will find many of the new Papec Machine company's silage harvesters in operation. Farmers, again faced with labor problems, are placing their order for the silage harvester, which enables silage to be put up with half the usual help.

Dairy Cow Minerals

There are five minerals likely to be deficient in practical dairy rations: common salt, calcium, phosphorus, and iodine. All the other minerals which dairy cattle need are usually supplied in common feeds. Mineral supplements are not needed except when there are definite signs of a deficiency. Expensive and a poor remedy for underfeeding. Persistent desire of cattle to lick or eat dirt shows calcium deficiency.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

TRUE TO A GREAT HERITAGE

LESSON TEXT: Deuteronomy 4:1, 32-40.
MEMORY SELECTION: He hath made his wonderful works to be remembered—Psalm 111:4.

A goodly heritage is the gift of God to his people. By faith they must enter into it and possess it. Thus they honor him who has promised, and they witness to all the earth that he is a great God and a loving heavenly Father. It magnifies his name to believe on his word and to act on his promises.

Israel, having failed God and plunged themselves into years of wandering by their unbelief when they just came up to the Promised Land, were now ready to go over Jordan and take the land.

A new generation had grown up, and for their instruction Moses rehearsed the history of the people, repeated the promises of God, and renewed their remembrance of his law. The book of Deuteronomy gives that "second law"—actually a review of what had been given before.

As they entered upon God's rich heritage for them they were admonished to:

I. Hearken to God's Law (v. 1). To hearken means more than to hear and forget. It carries with it the giving of attention to what is heard with the purpose of doing something about it.

God's law, his statutes and judgments are for the good of his people. They are not designed to limit their freedom, but to provide the channels through which they shall be most free to live and to accomplish that which is good and noble and useful.

Two things were assured to Israel if they hearkened to the law of God. They would first of all "live." This does not mean only that they should escape death, but that they might enter into the fullness of life.

"The Bible teaches that we are free to choose between a high grade of life or a low grade, between a life which involves fellowship with God or a daily existence which means nothing more than the enjoyment of animal comforts and following our own willful ways" (Earl L. Douglass).

The second result of obeying God's law would be their going into and possessing the land which God gave them. There is victory and attainment, as well as blessed fellowship for the one who obeys God. That is true today as it was in the time of Moses.

II. Remember God's Love (vv. 32-40).

The loving mercies of God toward his people had revealed his infinite greatness and glory. He revealed himself in the fire—and they might well have been consumed by it—yet he graciously spoke to them instead of destroying them. They were to recall, too, that he had done a mighty and wonderful thing in taking them out of the powerful hand of Egypt and making them into a people for his name.

Sad is the state of the soul of the man who has lost his sense of the miraculous. To live in the midst of the constant demonstration of God's power and his mercy, and to see and feel nothing but the commonplace touch of humdrum daily life, is to be blind and deaf—yes, to be dead spiritually.

Is he any less powerful today? Certainly not! He is still the God of the miraculous and nowhere is that divine energy more evident than in the spiritual life of man.

The wonders of God in creation were rehearsed for Israel. They learned of his care for his people. "But far more wonderful are the works of God in the new creation and his infinite care for his people redeemed from a ruined race, and made inheritors of eternal residence in the heavenly Canaan" (Hight C. Moore).

III. Depend on God's Promise (vv. 37-40).

The Promised Land was before them, but it was for them to go in and possess it. There were wars and struggle ahead, mighty warlike peoples to overcome. Were they able for it? No, not in their own strength!

How were they to accomplish this formidable task? By counting on God. He had promised to drive out the nations now holding the land. He is a God not only in heaven, but also on earth (v. 38). The people who believe him may go forward expecting miracles to happen.

Obedience to God's law brings fellowship with the eternal and omnipotent One, and the confident assurance that he will bring victory and the full accomplishment of his will for the obedient believer.

That is as true now as ever. Yes, let's be accurate and say that it is more true than ever, for believers now are indwelt by the Holy Spirit of God who makes real in and through them all the grace and beauty and power of God.

GOOD RURAL LINE NEIGHBORS ... SHARE THE WIRE

There's lots of pleasure... and time saving, too... in using your telephone often to drop in on a neighbor for a friendly chat, or to do a rush job. Everyone on the farm needs a telephone these busy days. That's why it's neighborly to share the line with others. Everyone can get his call through, if no one person ties up the wire with a needlessly long conversation. Our postwar building program soon will provide more lines for more rural subscribers. While facilities are still limited, everyone will benefit from the "good neighbor policy" on rural lines. We know you'll help.
